

PRES'T, GOVERNOR,
PAY A TRIBUTE TO
U. S. NEWSPAPERS

National Newspaper Week
Being Observed From
Oct. 1st to 8th

TRUMAN'S MESSAGE

"Have Best, Freest Press In World . . . But is Room
For Improvement"

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1—President Truman, Governor Duff, United States Senators Edward Martin and Francis J. Myers paid tribute today to the daily and weekly newspapers of the Commonwealth and the country, this being National Newspaper Week, which will be observed October 1-8.

National Newspaper Week is a period when the newspapers review the services they render to the community in which they are published and to the nation and the world in general.

In a message to the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association, President Truman said: "We have the best and freest press in the world," adding, "but, as in all other fields of human endeavor, there is always room for improvement." The President continued: "Consequently, it is fitting that there should be a National Newspaper Week when the newspapers of the United States may take stock of their services to their readers."

"I like the slogan you have chosen this year—'Your Newspaper Serves Freedom by Serving You.' There can be no greater contribution to the welfare of our nation and the world than service in the cause of freedom. We are too much inclined to take our own freedom as a matter of course. We need to defend it always, and we need now to do all that we can to extend the blessings of freedom throughout the world."

"The newspapers have played a splendid part in this great cause, and I know they can be counted upon in the future."

Governor Duff said: "National Newspaper Week, October 1-8, is a period in which all Pennsylvanians would do well to consider fully the appreciation they owe to the continuing contributions which their local daily and weekly newspapers make in shaping their personal lives, the development of their home community and their State, and their knowledge of public problems."

"From the days of Benjamin Franklin, one of the first of Pennsylvania's great journalists, newspapers have formed an important segment of the foundation of this Commonwealth."

Reception Follows A Christening Ceremony

On Sunday morning, in Holmesburg Methodist Church, Earl William, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Kennedy, was christened, the Rev. John H. Barnes, Jr., officiating. Mr. Kennedy's brother, Lloyd Kennedy, of Holmesburg, was the child's godfather; Mrs. Mildred Kennedy was godmother.

In the afternoon a reception was held at the Kennedy home, Fleetwing Drive. Refreshments were served.

Among those present: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sunderland, Mrs. Florence Sunderland, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Stanley, Hatboro; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrelle, Mr. and Mrs. James Masters, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Balazs, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kleese, Allan Lavelle, William Fink.

Police Chief Seized

A DESPERATE gunman, Erbor Julius Worsack, 23, abducted Police Chief Wayne Elliott (above), 45, of Allentown, Pa., as he attempted to arrest him in connection with a number of robberies. Despite the fact that the house in which Worsack was cornered was surrounded, he managed to place a gun at the back of the chief and use him for a shield. He forced Elliott into his own radio car and made him drive toward Bethlehem. The chief finally escaped from the car after two hours and escaped. (International)

BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All in The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

An unusually successful sale of real estate, livestock, farm machinery and household articles was held Saturday on the farm of George M. Lehr, Kintnersville.

The real estate, which consisted of a property of 97 acres with a stone dwelling, was purchased for $13,900 by Henry A. Male, Pen Argyl. With three or four bidders in the field, the bids were started at about $5000.

The sale, attended by 300 or 350 persons and which was in charge of Justice of the Peace Levi D. Stever, Springtown, also featured the disposal of 23 acres of corn in the field. This sold for $1,090.

Livestock included 23 Holstein cows, which sold at an average of $235. Three of them sold for over $300 each. Two horses brought $47 and $74. Three heifers for $47 to $210, and two bulls, $110 and $220.

After a record of 17 years of efficient police service in Bucks county, Cpl. Chester W. Reitz, who organized the Quakertown sub-station on May 1, 1938, and has been in charge there ever since, has been transferred to the headquarters of Troop D at Bethlehem.

Corporal Reitz will take over his new assignment today, and will be succeeded at Quakertown by Corporal Kenneth F. Stumpf, who has been stationed in Bethlehem, and who is a resident of Doylestown.

Cpl. Reitz has the distinction of being stationed in Bucks county longer than any other state trooper. He first came to the county in 1930, when he was assigned to the Edison sub-station (since removed to Doylestown), and later was stationed in Doylestown, Langhorne, back to Doylestown, and then to Quakertown in 1938.

Mill Street Merchants
Plan for Decorations

The Mill Street Business Men's Association held a meeting last evening at No. 1 fire station building. President J. S. Lynn presided over the meeting.

The main decision of the evening was to have Christmas tree lights on Mill street for the Christmas season.

The lights will run along Mill street and up Radcliffe street as far as Mulberry street.

Other Christmas decorations are contemplated, such as holly, etc. A committee has been appointed to collect funds from the stores and business houses on the street for the lights.

ber-ship

DRIVE PROGRESSES

Vigil Honor membership, the highest degree in the Scout Order of the Arrow, was attained by John Burtonwood, District Scout Commissioner, of Bristol, and Fred B. Schneek, Bucks County Council field executive, at impressive ceremonies, Sunday, at Camp Ockanickon.

Robert Meyers, Parkland, also was elected Chief of the Order at this annual fall meeting attended by 72 Scout campers from Bucks County.

Meyers succeeded Edward Mills, of Hulmeville, who presided over the week-end activities at Ockanickon.

Other officials, both re-elected, included: Ernest Bosser, Scribe, of Quakertown, and Fred Maag, Treasurer, of Parkland.

Raymond W. Hoxworth, Council Executive, announced that the Order of the Arrow has contributed toward dedication of a bench in the camp chapel in honor of members killed in the service.

He also reported substantial contributions in the third week of the annual finance campaign of the Council. "6200 Friends of Scouting" is the campaign slogan, with a goal of $30,000.

Zuchero and DiAntonio
Nuptials Are Performed

STRAFFORD, Oct. 1—Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Angeline DiAntonio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo DiAntonio, of Wayne, to Mr. John Zuchero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zuchero, Tullytown.

The wedding took place in Our Lady of the Assumption Church, here, on Saturday. Following a short visit in New York, N. Y., the newlyweds will reside with the groom's parents.

Food Items Are Gifts

TWO PHILADELPHIANS
ARE HURT IN CRASH

Passenger Car Strikes Rear of Truck as Latter is Slowed Down

ON LINCOLN HIGHWAY

TREVOSE, Oct. 1—Two young men sustained injuries when a passenger automobile is said to have crashed into the rear of a truck on the Lincoln highway, near here, last evening at 8:50.

The injured: Paul Hodgkinson, 22, of 7009 block of Edrick street, Philadelphia, severe lacerations of forehead.

John Burns, 18, of 200 block, East Berkeley street, Philadelphia, possible fracture of spine.

Both young men were removed to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia. Hodgkinson being taken there by Edward Mills, Jr., of Doylestown, and Burns in the ambulance of Trevoze Rescue Squad.

According to state police of Langhorne barracks, the truck, operated by John Leo Campbell, of E. Walnut Lane, Philadelphia, was slowing down to pick up some passengers, when it was struck in the rear by the automobile operated by Alfred Vandegrift, of the 7009 block of Montague street, Philadelphia. Hodgkinson was riding with Vandegrift, and Burns was riding in the truck.

CONFIRM APPOINTMENT

HULMEVILLE, Oct. 1—Hulmeville-Middletown school board, in session on Monday evening in the school house, confirmed the appointment of Mrs. Rebecca Bond Worrell as teacher of third grade here. Mrs. Worrell succeeded Miss Federick. Samuel Everitt was the presiding officer.

RUMOR BING MIGHT
BUY TYLER ESTATE

Confirmation or Denial Not Forthcoming Regarding Purchase However

HOLDINGS ARE VAST

NEWTOWN, Oct. 1—It is strongly rumored that Bing Crosby, radio and motion picture star, is negotiating for purchase of "Indian Council Rock Farm," the George F. Tyler holdings, near here.

Whether negotiations are actually underway could not be ascertained today.

One source, believed to be "in the know," would not deny and would not confirm the rumor, merely adding "I wish I could help you."

The rumor of "The Groaner" buying the Bucks county estate reached Doylestown a few days ago.

It is understood that Crosby, who owns thousands of acres on a ranch in California, would love to have as vast a land holdings as the Tyler farms consist of in central Bucks county.

That Bing would go in for farming and horses in Bucks county, in addition to his other diversions, is plausible since he now owns a string of horses and also is part-owner of the baseball team, "The Yankees."

Congregation Welcomes
New Pastor and His Wife

The congregation and friends of Bristol Pentecostal Church on Saturday evening tendered a housewarming to their new pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Anthony Marinacci.

The party was held at the Marinacci home on Lafayette street. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by guests from Trenton, N. J., Tacony and Bristol.

PROCLAMATION
PENNSYLVANIA WEEK, OCTOBER 13 TO 19, 1947

In this critical period of readjustment to full scale peacetime progress it is highly essential that the great majority of Pennsylvanians fully realize the tremendous volumes and variety of Pennsylvania's unsurpassed natural, industrial and human resources. For their own benefit, every man, woman and child needs to become completely aware of the virtually unlimited possibilities of their Commonwealth and their home community for maintaining and extending the unexcelled opportunities they offer for the enjoyment of a full life.

As the foundation for the continued progress and expansion of Pennsylvania, it is highly essential that Pennsylvania's ten million citizens be reawakened to the present and possible achievements of this Commonwealth. That is why the period October 13th to 19th, inclusive, is being designated as "Pennsylvania Week." It is a time being dedicated to a state-wide educational and promotional movement that will make Pennsylvanians acutely—and proudly—aware of the almost unlimited variety of Pennsylvania's resources and production today, and its potentialities for growth and expansion in the immediate future.

It is imperative, too, that Pennsylvania citizens generally learn to know their respective home communities, to appreciate the wide variety of the products, services and opportunities available in their home town, and to recognize the manner in which local achievements can be further diversified and increased. It is vital that they understand how the promotion of Pennsylvania and their home communities can help to attract new industries, step up the production of existing industries and in every way make their home communities better places in which to live, work and enjoy the American way of life to the fullest possible extent.

THHEREFORE, I, James H. Duff, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby designate and proclaim October 13 through October 19, 1947, as Pennsylvania Week, to be observed by the citizens of our Commonwealth as a time for reevaluating the vast resources of the Commonwealth and the highly diversified production within their own respective home communities to the end that every Pennsylvania man, woman and child may become better acquainted with the resources, the development, the history and the potentialities of both their home state and their home community.

FURTHERMORE, I request that Know-Your-State and Know-Your-Community programs and other appropriate exercises and special activities be held in the schools and other educational institutions, and by patriotic, civic, fraternal, business and industrial organizations within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

GIVEN under my hand and the Great Seal of the Commonwealth, in the City of Harrisburg, this fifteenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-seven, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred seventy-second.

JAMES H. DUFF,
C. M. MORRISON,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

ARMY REVEALS PLAN
FOR RETURNING DEAD

Estimate 36,000 Bodies Will Begin Arriving Within A Month

TAKE ABOUT A YEAR

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1—(INS)—The army's plans for receiving and distributing the bodies of thousands of American World War II dead were revealed today.

Col. T. R. Sharp, commanding officer of the Army Quartermaster Depot in Philadelphia, said an estimated 36,000 bodies will begin arriving next month for delivery to bereaved families in six eastern states and the District of Columbia.

It will take approximately one year, Col. Sharp said, to dispose of the entire quota at the rate of about 100 bodies daily.

He assured relatives that "every thing possible" was being done by the Army to assure the handling of the war dead "in accordance with the dignity which a man who gave his life for his country deserves."

Col. Sharp commands the depot where the caskets will be inspected and held pending instructions from the next of kin.

He emphasized that next of kin may call in person for a body, but he added:

"The privilege (of calling in person) is not denied; nor is its exercise encouraged."

Col. Sharp said the first ship bearing eastern war dead is due to arrive in New York about Oct. 25. Remains will travel from New York to Philadelphia in special mortuary cars attended by honor guards. There will be 66 bodies to a car, according to Col. Sharp.

Two huge warehouses have been reserved for the remains.

Warners Plan Party For 7-Year-Old Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. William Warner, Harrison street, entertained on Tuesday afternoon in honor of the seventh birthday anniversary of their daughter Carol.

As the children entered the living room they found apples suspended from a clothesline. Those who bit the apples without using hands were Grace Hieck and "Jimmy" Boyle. Decorations were in red and white. Each child received a basket of candy and a lollipop as a favor. Refreshments were served.

Others attending: Sandra Kornstedt, Joan Di Lorenzo, Patricia Sanders, Carol Ann Perkins, Ellen Scheffey, Joyce Craven, "Nicky" DiLisso, Raymond Jackson, John Boyle and "Billy" Warner.

Carol received many gifts, among them a wrist watch from her parents.

Authorities Believe That George W. Medland, 52, First Shot His Wife, Margaret, 51, and Then Turned the Gun on Himself—Couple Were Not Known to Have Quarrelled—Other Occupants of House Did Not Hear the Shots.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 1—The bodies of a well-known resident and his wife were found this morning shortly after 7 o'clock in what Bucks County Coroner J. Alfred Rigby interpreted as a murder and suicide.

The victims were George W. Medland, 52, and his wife, Margaret, 51.

The authorities reconstructed this version of the tragedy: The man is believed to have shot his wife in the kitchen of the Medland home, on Second Street pike, with a 38-calibre pistol at about 7 a. m. today.

The bullet struck her in the head, presumably killing her instantly.

Then, it is believed, Medland went to a small shed outside and shot himself.

No one heard the shots.

PUPILS MAKE STUDY
OF BRISTOL BOROUGH

Use Special Section of The Bristol Courier As Basis
For The Project

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPT.

The special articles on Bristol, its government, facilities, and municipal services, which appeared in a special section of The Bristol Courier on September 24th, are being used this week by the social studies department of Bristol high school.

The articles, written by well-known residents of Bristol and environs, appeared in a special section at the start of "Bristol Days," and were published in cooperation with the Bristol Chamber of Commerce. The section has been very favorably commented upon.

Miss Marion E. Peck, head of the social studies department at Bristol high school, states the articles are being read this week for the purpose of studying government, departments of the borough, as well as those not governmental; and in an effort to familiarize pupils with local history, and the services rendered the community by various groups.

The study of Bristol will lead up to a study of Pennsylvania during "Pennsylvania Week" which will be marked this month.

The articles appearing in the special section of The Courier covered the types of industry here, health facilities, schools, churches, police and fire departments, library, Bristol's history, sports, transportation, clubs, banking and building and loan associations, veterans units, Scouts, and the activities in the immediate adjacent suburbs.

OUR FEATHERED FRIEND

Things have been pretty much peaches and cream for the animal kingdom for the last couple of weeks. Oh sure—a San Francisco goldfish let her complexion go all to pieces and had to eat mothballs
and paprika to bring back that glittering skin that looks like something you'd love to touch, and in West Virginia a black bear trying to keep his weight up was carried away from somebody's refrigerator in a prowl car—but that was small stuff.

It is not so with the race that is offspring referred to so carelessly as human. A man in Chicago asked for a divorce because his wife wouldn't let him read about women, talk to them, or listen to a female voice over the radio. He said she was compensating for her own looks.

In another section of the same city, a Nobel Prize winner told mankind atomic bombs could do more than just kill a lot of people outright. Repeated explosions, he said, might wipe out the race ultimately by affecting the human gene system, which governs inheritance factors.

And, back in Los Angeles
again, a 90-year-old retired wine merchant made one of the most ungallant statements on record.
He was speaking of his ex-wife, 65, whom he divorced. "I hardly knew her at all when she proposed to me, but I did the gallant thing and married her."

Top billing goes to Harvard University, though. Scientists are going to study parrots and other talking birds to see if they can learn how young humans learn to talk. Polly ought to be able to tell them a thing or two.

GERMANS GO FOR JAZZ

American jazz has invaded Germany to such an extent many claim it is doing more to build friendship with the German people than all the efforts of the force of occupation.

For 12 years Goebbels tried to teach his people American jazz was decadent. Now after two years it has become so popular it has replaced all the national music. In fact, the thousands who flock to the concerts refuse to listen to any other kind, and boo the orchestras which attempt to play straight stuff.

The wise boys in Washington continue to talk about the "foreseeable future," without indicating in which direction they are looking.

Pres't, Gov'r Pay Tribute
To U. S. Newspapers

Commonwealth's greatness. For generation after generation Pennsylvanians have been among the best informed citizens of this Nation and the continuous, rapid growth of Pennsylvania has reflected that healthy condition. Our free press has been a source of inexhaustible strength, enlightened human relationships and progressive government.

"The recent World War is still fresh enough in our minds to make us shudder at the plight of the untold millions who in dictator-ridden countries had to grope their way through the terrible war years with access only to propaganda-filled subsidized newspapers. Even today two years after the end of worldwide conflict, there are nations in which a free press, such as Americans have learned to rely upon, appreciate, and cherish is unknown and cannot exist.

"The American Press, as exemplified by Pennsylvania's hundreds of progressive daily and weekly newspapers, is an integral part of the American way of life and our democratic form of government. None of us should forget that fact; and National Newspaper Week provides an ideal occasion for rededicating ourselves to the preservation of that great democratic institution, the free press of Pennsylvania and the United States."

Senator Martin commented in a letter to the PNPA:

"Wherever the press has been shackled in any part of the world, liberty has been destroyed. Recent world history has given convincing proof that social and political freedom cannot exist without a free press.

"Here in America, where freedom of the press is guaranteed by our fundamental law, we are most fortunate in the vigor, courage and the power of the press to safeguard our rights as a free people.

"It is, therefore, a happy privilege, in connection with the 1947 observance of National Newspaper Week, to pay tribute once more to the intelligent and trustworthy leadership of the Pennsylvania daily and weekly newspapers and to praise the constructive, public spirit which guides their patriotic efforts for community, state and national betterment."

Senator Myers:
"The newspapers of Pennsylvania, as a group, have every reason to be proud of the excellent record they have achieved over the years in promoting our State and Nation and the things they both stand for,
and in giving to their readers the objective facts which citizens in a democracy require in order to carry out their obligations to the remarkable set of principles under which we live.

"Some of the newspapers in our State are, of course, far above the average in their sense of fairness and in their dedication to the principles of a free press, but nearly all the papers in our State, daily and weekly, reflect a real sense of responsibility under the sacred trust they enjoy. On the whole, the culture of newspapers in Pennsylvania is of a quality to make us all proud.

"During National Newspaper Week, the citizens of Pennsylvania would do well to appraise the spirit of public service reflected by their own particular favorite newspaper, and if they do so they will find I believe, that they have been getting real service for themselves and for their communities. I think they will find, too, that their newspapers have been alert to those forces in the community and in the State and Nation which are contrary to our principles of American democracy."

Francis H. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

"National Newspaper Week tends to direct public attention to the essential service rendered by a free press. It challenges publishers to a re-evaluation of current issues of vital interest to our citizens and of the principles which dictate their editorial columns and reportorial policies.

"In the American system of representative government, it seems obvious that insofar as our daily and weekly newspapers serve to determine the individual convictions of our electorate to that extent will they be responsible for the destiny of our Nation.

"In the future of the United States of America now inextricably

A Modern, Practical Hairdo

This upswEEP hairdo, worn by Actress Leslie Brooks, is both modern and practical.

By HELEN FOLLETT

MILLINERS and coiffure stylists have a nice friendly way of working together, and that's swell for the sisterhood. For every hat there is a hairdresser.

There's a new triple puff arrangement that is as smart as all get-out.
During the day you have your three rolls at the nape line; for the festive evening party, you up them.
The front of the hair can be as flat as a pancake or slightly pomped. If you fancy the one-sided effect, as some do, you can arrange your rolls ever one ear; in that case your hat is perched on the other side of your head to display your glorious crown.

Growing Hair

If you want to be first with the latest, you had better put your mind on growing hair, since it lends itself to a greater variety of modes.
Though, if your precious wool is cropped, don't feel out of it. It is a more youthful mode than any topknot affair. That is why many love-lies of the silver screen are still wearing it, or a bob that barely comes to the shoulders.

By buying what hairdressers call
"extra pieces" one can camouflage clipped tresses, be a shortie and a longie at one and the same time.

Personality Hairdo

Hair stylists say "Swirl it up, fold it down, scroll it to one side, but make it beautiful." Well, some smarties are able to do one or the other, creating the personality hair-do. But the average run-of-the-mill girls have to be shown. There are plenty of beauty shops in which they will be taken in hand, the hair tapered, trimmed, given a perma-

a part of a World Community of nations impoverished by war, the responsibility for molding public opinion here and abroad is as grave as it is difficult.

"Now, if ever, the concept of the brotherhood of man needs intelligent reconsideration and practical application. As never before, the citizens of America invoke Divine guidance of the Press and others responsible for our national and foreign policies in an enduring hope for a lasting peace."

America would be lost without its free press, said William S. Livengood, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs. He commented:

"As Thackeray wrote: 'The fourth estate—the great engine—she never sleeps. She has her ambassadors in every quarter of the world—her couriers upon every road. Her officers march along with armies, and her envoys walk into statements.' Yes, and they walk with the poor and lowly, too, and they champion the suffering and the down-trodden. They fight the battles for freedom from oppression from whatever source. Our free press is our greatest task force in the present day war on communism. We would be a lost and voiceless people without it."

National Newspaper Week was originated by the PNPA in 1932 so that editors and publishers could tell their readers what the local newspaper means to the community in which it is published.

Newspaper Week this year will be observed in more than 250 communities in Pennsylvania, the PNPA reported. There will be newspaper talks before service clubs, plant visitations by school children and others, mass meetings addressed by publishers, and special tributes to carriers. Saturday, October 4, has been designated as Newspaper Ro-Day.

Any season is a good season to

The first appeal from the ruling barring unions that had not filed these affidavits will come before the NLRB today from a Baltimore AFL electrical brotherhood. In New York the NLRB regional office refused to dismiss a petition by employees to "decertify" their CIO union on the ground that the union had forced the workers to ask for dismissal.

Millinery manufacturers announced that they would sue the striking Railway Express Agency union for $10,000,000 damages. The industry asked the NLRB to obtain an injunction to end secondary picketing of their plants.

ITHACA (INS)—The pheasant population in New York State will be increased considerably this fall, thanks to more than 1,500 4-H Club members in 48 counties who have released birds raised from 30,000 chicks and 30,000 eggs given them by the State Conservation Department. The birds raised from chicks were released after eight weeks of age, and the others at five weeks.

HELPFUL TIPS WILL AID IN THE MAKING OF FINE SLIP-COVERS

By FLORA-MAY SAGUL

Home Economics Representative
A new slip cover in fresh colors will add that needed lift to an old chair or davenport. Slip covers are easy to make. There are fewer fitting problems than in making a dress. The chair stands still while you fit and pin. Bulges on a chair are usually places where excess fullness can be tucked in. There should be tucks in around the arms and the back under the cushion so that sitting on the springs will not cause a great strain on the material.

There are several important things to remember when selecting slip cover material. The size of the room and the restful appearance can be changed by the use of color and design in relation to other furnishings. Where wallpaper and rug have a conspicuous design, it is best to choose plain or stripe fabric in harmonious colors.
Color can be used to give it light and warmth or coolness to the appearance of the room. A north room with a dark corner can be brightened by use of a slip cover on the chair or davenport which contains yellow or other warm colors. Cool blues and greens may be used in a warm room where much sunlight pours in.

Firm weave fabrics will not pull at the seams and also are more dust proof than those more loosely woven. Select washable preshrunk material, weltings, and trimmings. Use heavy duty thread for stitching.

For complete directions on how to make and fit slip covers, write to the Agricultural Extension Office, 75 N. Main street, Doylestown, and ask for Circular No. 210.

HEAVY DUTY RAIL

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—The

Pennsylvania Railroad has announced the development of a heavy duty rail of greater strength and wearability. The new rail, which required several years of research to develop, will insure safer operation, smoother riding and economy of maintenance, according to a railroad spokesman.

No Sign of a Let-up

SINCE THE FIRST OF THE YEAR, we've had more than 188,000 applications for telephone service . . . and there is no sign of a let-up.

There's no sign of a let-up, either, in our efforts to provide telephone service for everyone who wants it, anywhere in the territory we serve.

We'll spend $60,000,000 this year to install 16 new central offices, to make major additions to 25, to enlarge 295 others, to string and lay 367,000 miles of outside wire, and to tie everything together into the complex and inter-connected entity which is the telephone system.

Is all this our job alone?

Not by a long shot. Working with us in the long-range job of adding to our permanent telephone system are the scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories; the craftsmen and purchasing agents of Western Electric; and thousands of people like you and your neighbors, who, with part of their savings invested in telephone securities, supply the dollars that build this business and help us to provide the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

Kitchen Almanac Good Eating in August

Good eating if the menu is to be meatless is a vegetable custard ring filled with cooked vegetables. Beat slightly 4 eggs; add an undiluted 11-oz. can condensed cream of green pea soup, 1/4 cup milk, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/4 cup butter melted. Blend well and pour into buttered ring mold. Place in pan of warm water and bake in moderately slow oven (325° F.) 45 min. Let stand a few minutes before removing from pan. Heap cooked vegetables in center, sprinkle with parsley.

22 F. Is your new idea for short on simple salads? Add this: Combine equal portions grated carrot and seedless raisins; fleck lightly with salt. Piquant either with French dressing or mayonnaise.

24 S. Satisfying, easy to serve for Sunday night supper is Salmon Mushroom Casserole. Heat until smooth, stirring constantly, an undiluted 11-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup. Drain, clean, and flake a 16-oz. can salmon. Place layer of salmon in small casserole. Top with layer of hard-cooked egg slices (4 eggs will be needed altogether). Pour part of soup over top. Repeat process. Cover casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 minutes.

25 M. Solid, simple for Monday main dish: Combine 1 lb. ground round steak, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup tomato ketchup, 1 tsp. Worcestershire, divide into 8 portions. Grease muffin tins and line with meat mixture, then fill centers with Boston-style oven-baked beans. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 20 min. Serve 2 per person with crisp cabbage salad.

26 Tu Apples are back; hail their return with a gala baked hatch. To give them glamour drop spoonful of fruit jelly in core holes when removing apples from oven.

27 W. Much cooler days are on the docket. Celebrate with an Oregon Chess Pie. Cream together until light and fluffy 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar. Add 1/4 tsp. salt; add 3 eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in 1 cup nuts coarsely chopped, 1 cup seedless raisins or seedless raisins. Add 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Pour into an unbaked 9-inch pastry shell. Bake (350° F.) 40 min. Good hot or cold.

28 Th. Spaghetti and Egg Scramble makes swift and simple luncheon dish. Fry 6 bacon slices until crisp; remove from pan and break into pieces. Beat until light and fluffy 4 eggs, add a can of cooked spaghetti in tomato sauce; pour into skillet containing small amount of bacon fat. Cook stirring gently till the consistency of scrambled eggs. Add bacon, season with salt and pepper; serve on toast.

29 F. To serve successful egg plant slice a small one in 1/2 inch. pieces. Arrange flat in long shallow baking dish. Combine an undiluted 11-oz. can condensed cream of tomato soup, 2 tsp. distilled white vinegar, dash pepper; pour over egg plant. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake uncovered in a moderate oven (350° F.) 35 min. or until tender.

30 Sa. Breakfast need brightening? Fry this: Combine and heat to boiling over low heat, 1 cup evaporated milk, 1/2 cups water. Add 1/2 tsp. salt; gradually stir in 1/2 cup uncooked cereal and 1/2 cup seedless raisins. Cook stirring according to cereal directions; stir in 1/4 cup brown sugar, 1/4 tsp. cinnamon. Wonderful with cream or top milk.

31 S. One dish specialty for supper: Heap your favorite potato and egg salad in tomato cups. Serve with potato chips, pickles, olives, celery and carrot curls.

be abridged or impaired by the group except so far as the freedom of individual members conflicts with the rights of other members."

Surveyors marked off all but 80 acres into plots of about two acres for home sites and original members drew lots to determine the location of their homes. Newcomers, after being accepted as members by a four-fifths vote of the colony, have been permitted their choice of remaining available sites. Members pay an entrance fee of $50, own their buildings and equipment, but lease the land for 99-year terms from the corporation.

The 80 unplotted acres were set aside for a park, lake site and recreation ground which includes tennis courts and a baseball diamond. One of the old stone farmhouses was rehabilitated and turned into a community house.

The entire membership took a hand in preparing the land. Since homesteaders wished to eliminate overhead wires, each one contributed time to digging trenches so the telephone and electric companies could lay cables underground. They cleared away brush, dug wells, built hard-surface roads which wind artistically over the property.

The somewhat unusual system of government has proved to be highly efficient. Each year there is an election of a president, a board of directors and an astonishing number of committees. The committee on community properties, plot and house plans now headed by Robert Bishop, an architect, always is ready with suggestions for a homesteader who wants help building his home. Few restrictions are placed on architectural style but it is understood that dwellings are expected to conform to the general type of the community. Nearly all homes feature spaciousness. Many are modernistic to the point of radiant heating and water-cooled roofs, huge picture windows are a feature of practically all.

At an annual meeting, the membership determines budget requirements and assessments for the following year. Each household pays its share in ratio to the ground it occupies. The annual budget provides for all expenditures including taxes, interest on capital and development costs.

Another committee, headed by Mrs. Bishop, directs a mothers' group in planning children's parties and picnics. Her assistants are Mrs. Anna Morris and Mrs. Ada Singley, wife of the Rev. Dewees Singley who weekly conducts vespers services. Mrs. Faith Hastings, wife of Dr. Willard S. Hastings, directs a cultural group in nature study. And at the community center such activities as folk dancing are under leadership of John Hodgkins, an accountant, and Mrs. Hodgkins. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lampe and Mrs. Pearl Fredendall, wife of Gordon L. Fredendall, an electrical engineer. For both children and grown-ups, hand craft classes are held by Mr. Lampe, Mrs. Fredendall and Mrs. Helen Diano, wife of Joseph Diano, the artist.

The communal spirit prevails even in the most informal entertaining. A committee meeting at the home of Herbert and Georgia Bergstrom, social workers and two of the original founders, may end up as a party with the aid of others.

Homesteaders maintain that Bryn Gweled has what no other colony perhaps anywhere else in the world has. Besides all modern devices for gracious living, it has the spaciousness, leisure and quiet of the Pennsylvania countryside. Of one of the most beautiful areas But more important to members and more highly prized is their mutual helpfulness and friendliness. They see their colony as an inspiration to other communities in need of a Hill of Vision.

UNRUFFLED RUFFLES

Gay aplomb is the keynote of this play outfit of candy-stripe cotton—hints that is especially becoming to petite girls. As pretty Gloria Henry of Columbia demonstrates, the elastic binding on the midriff and skirt makes the waist and shoulder line form-fitting.

RECIPES

Pimiento Cheese Pudding
8 slices white bread
1/2 cup softened butter or margarine
3 cups (3/4 pound) grated American cheese
1/3 cup chopped pimiento
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Cayenne
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 cups milk

Spread slices of bread with butter and cut into cubes. Alternate layers of bread cubes, cheese and pimiento in a 1 1/2-quart casserole. Add salt, Cayenne and Worcestershire sauce to milk. Pour over bread, cheese and pimiento in casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 45 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Baked Stuffed Tomatoes
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup cornmeal
1/2 clove garlic, minced
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
6 large firm tomatoes
3 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 cups water

5/8 teaspoons chili powder
4 tablespoons parsley

Melt shortening in saucepan; add cornmeal and cook over low heat until lightly browned, stirring constantly. Add garlic and onion and cook 3 minutes. Cut off a thin slice of stem end from unpeeled tomatoes. Scoop out pulp and juice from tomatoes and sprinkle the inside of tomatoes with 1 1/2 teaspoons of the salt. Add juice and chopped tomato pulp to cornmeal mixture. Add water, chili powder, remaining 2 teaspoons salt and 2 tablespoons of the parsley. Cover and simmer 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Fill the tomato shells with the cornmeal mixture. Place in shallow baking dish (12x7 1/2 inches). Sprinkle remaining 2 1/2 teaspoons parsley on top. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 20 minutes or until tomatoes are easily pierced with a fork. Makes 6 servings.

Fluffy Sauce
1/4 cup margarine or butter
1/4 cup confectioners sugar
1 egg, beaten
1/4 teaspoon almond extract, or 2 drops each of vanilla extract and almond extract

Cream margarine; add sugar gradually. Add beaten egg, nutmeg and a dash of vanilla; chill. Serve with Steamed Cherry Pudding.

Yield: 1 cup Fluffy Sauce.

Toasted Bread Sticks
6 slices day-old enriched bread
Leave crusts on bread. Cut bread into strips 1/2" thick on all sides. Toast on a cookie sheet in a moderate oven (350° F.) for twenty-five minutes. Turn them so they will be golden brown on all sides. Serve with creamed foods.

Yield: 6 servings.

Chicken Croquettes with Cuban Sauce
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups milk
2 cups chopped cooked chicken
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon Cayenne
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Melt butter in a saucepan; add flour, salt and pepper and stir until smooth. Stir in milk slowly. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Remove from heat; add chicken, parsley, onion and Cayenne. Mix well. Chill for at least one hour.

Shape chicken mixture into croquettes or patties. Dip into crumbs, egg and again in crumbs. Fry in hot deep or shallow fat (375° F.) about 2 minutes, or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with Cuban Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Cuban Sauce
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped onion

1 small can (7 1/2 oz.) tomato sauce
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
1 bay leaf

Melt butter in saucepan. Add onion and cook until lightly browned. Add tomato sauce, chili powder and bay leaf. Cook over low heat about 10 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Makes about 1 cup.

Middle American Hominy
1 pound chopped pork
3 cups (1 No. 2 1/2 can) drained hominy
2 1/2 cups (1 No. 2 can) tomatoes
1/2 garlic clove, finely chopped
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon marjoram

Cook pork over low heat until browned. Add hominy, tomatoes, garlic, salt and marjoram. Simmer over low heat about 1 hour. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: Chick peas or garbanzos may be substituted for hominy.

See Miss Slack's Collection Of Glass; History is Given

SOLEBURY, Oct. 1.—Miss Margaret R. Slack, of Washington Crossing, displayed a splendid collection of glass which has long been in her family, when she addressed members of the Solebury Farmers Club in Trinity hall, here, Saturday evening.

Miss Slack informed that the pieces range in age from 90 to 150 years. Having made a detailed study of glass, she traced the history of the origin of glass from 3500 B. C. through the art of the hand-blown glass to the modern cut-glass.

Serving as hostesses and host were Miss Ethel Fell and Mr. and Mrs. William Cosner.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis
Pastor
Eddington Presbyterian Church

Once more have we come to the end of another month. Once again we have been privileged to begin a new month. Time is the same always. We should change since in Christ "old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." It is to be feared that there is more of the "old" in us than the "new." The old ways of pride and prejudice still hold forth in our lives. Forgive us. As we begin a new month may it be begun in the spirit of the Psalmist who prayed "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

W. CHESTER BEARS WILL TANGLE WITH ST. ANN'S PLAYERS

Visitors Will Have Comedy Act in Addition To The Game

IS TONIGHT AT 8.15

"Saints" Will Be Without Services of Their Star Passer

The West Chester Bears, a member of the Main Line football league, will come to the Bristol High School field tonight to meet the St. Ann's gridders under the lights, starting at 8.15 o'clock. In addition to the football team, the West Chester contingent will have a comedy act which will interest the crowd between halves.

Coach "Mike" DeRisi was disappointed in the showing of his proteges against the Trenton O'Donnells Sunday night. The team lacked spirit and played in a lazy way until the final period when it began to show its strength but then it was too late.

In the practice session last night, DeRisi drilled his kickers in getting off the punts faster. Two blocked kicks actually beat the St. Ann's aggregation.

The "Saints" will be without the services of "Mickey" Stradling, star passer. Stradling was injured in the Trenton game and had to be carried from the field. The Morrisville boy is one of the best passers in this section and before being injured had pitched two perfect passes over the goal-line but the receivers dropped them both.

The reserve line of St. Ann's failed to show its usual playing against the Jersey team, being shoved around frequently. Most of the gains made by the O'Donnells was through the line when DeRisi was reeling his regulars. In fact, when the Trenton team blocked the first kick, the regular linemen were on the bench.

For tonight's fracas, it is most likely that Coach DeRisi will use "Mooney" Denny and "Howie" Keyes at the end positions; "Carm" Gulatto and "Al" Sozio, tackles; "Jim" Campbell and "Buck" Profy, guards; "Vince" DeBronze, center; and in the backfield, Stan Lelinski, "Nate" Chichiletti, Sal Pappaterra, and "Jim" Spencer.

The playing of Keyes has been outstanding in the last two games. Besides his fine tackling, Keyes has been instrumental in several large gains on plays where the end carries the ball. His catching of passes has also given the "Saints" considerable yardage.

"Vince" DeBronze did not play in the Trenton tilt because of illness but is now well and will start at center. DeRisi used Paul Caucci and Joe Conti in the Jersey contest. Caucci played with the Riverside team last season.

EDDINGTON PIGEON RACES TO HOME LOFT

Forty-six birds of the Bristol Homing Society were released at its 300-mile station at Chatham, Va., Sunday.

The first pigeon arrived at the loft of "Ed" Cottrell, Eddington, yesterday, making the fast time of 948.28 yards per minute. Second place went to Frank Oostdyk, Bristol Township, whose bird averaged 928.96 yards a minute. Third place was won by Ernest Zork.

Cottrell won the trophy donated by President of the Homing Society, Edward Grunert.

HARDLY A LEMON—By Jack Sords

ALONG THE TRAIL

By LOU GARAVENTE
I. N. S. Sports Writer

NEW YORK (INS) — The presidents and general managers of the various major league teams are generally shrewd-bargaining groups who are gifted with business and baseball sense. That is why there are so many conferences and hurried telephone calls involved when these leaders of the diamond decide to auction off one of their stars for vast sums or for other ball players.

This year, there has been more than a normal share of trades. Yet, with all the masterminding that went on, with all the concentrated thought given to the deals, only one trade has been what can be termed successful. In other words, there has been only one major league trade in which both parties were completely satisfied.

A few weeks after a ball player is sold or traded, everyone usually shouts that such-and-such a club has turned up with the proverbial "lemon".

Let's take a look at some of the trades, and see if there is an abnormal abundance of citrus along the major league front.

One Deal With the Reds
One of the first deals following last season's close was the Cincinnati-Brooklyn confab which wound up sending Augie Galan to the Reds for the veteran Ed Heusser. Brooklyn certainly can't show a dividend up to this moment.

Heusser was sent to the Dodger farm club, the Montreal Royals. The cagy right-hander sports a brilliant record with the International League runners-up, but he isn't contributing to the Dodger bid for the pennant.

On the other hand, "Goo Goo" Galan has solved Cincinnati's perennial left field problem. This great little guy wrapped together with wire and tape, and playing sometimes on nerve alone is one of the league's top hitters. His hard hitting and adept fielding are two of the big reasons the Reds are such a troublesome outfit.

Brooks Involved Again
The Brooks also were involved in a trading transaction which stirred up controversy in the land of the Faithful, and set the wolves howling about the throat of Deacon Branch Rickey. But not for long.

The Dodger president had himself a nice long talk with Pittsburgh Pirate president, Frank McKinney. And when the pair was finished, one of baseball's biggest deals had been made.

Kirby Higbe, the swaggering pride of the Brooklyn fans, and four Dodger lesser lights went to the Buccaneers for a little man named Al Giofriddo and a big bundle of cash in the palatial neighborhood of $150,000.

That has turned out to be quite a crate of yellow-skinned fruit. Rickey pawned off on the unsuspecting McKinney. At least for this year.

Higbe is just about pitching 500 ball, and the other four, Dixie Howell, Cal McLish, Gene March, and Hank Behrman are just utility men.

In fact, Behrman proved of so little value that he was sent back to the Dodgers. And guess what? Hank is one of the Dodgers' ace relievers.

Of course little Giofriddo has contributed practically nothing. But Brother Rickey still has the $150,000.

Have Been Other Deals
There have been other deals, among them the Harry Walker-Northey swap. St. Louis traded "Little Dixie" to the Phils, and now, the younger Walker is headed for the batting line.

Northey meanwhile has been in a slump, and his big bat is NOT driving across the vital runs for the Cards.

The one deal that has pleased the traders in baseball ivory is the Winter transfer that sent second baseman Joe Gordon to Cleveland and pitcher Allie Reynolds to the Yankees.

Gordon was not happy with the MacPhailian Yanks last year. He got off to a bad start and wound up with a bad finish. When he was traded to the Indians he was delighted. And his play has reflected his attitude.

Right now Gordon and manager Lou Boudreau are the trickiest executors of the double play in baseball.

Last year the powerful second baseman hit 11 home runs. This year he is a strong contender for league four-base honors and a leader on the club in runs-batted-in.

Meanwhile, Reynolds is one of the top men in the league in total victories.

Story Behind His Purchase
There's a story behind the purchase of this fire-balling Indian. When the Yanks started negotiations with Cleveland they were offered anybody on the Indian mound staff except Bobby Feller. Yankee officials were in favor of big Red Embree.

Yankee manager Bucky Harris asked Joe DiMaggio what he thought. Joltin' Joe said quickly: "Grab Reynolds, he's the best."

The Yanks grabbed Reynolds. And Allie has been invaluable.

Most of The Playing Was Enacted in The Mid-Field

GILARDI STARS IN LINE

DeRisi and Bullington Were Stars for Bristol in Backfield

The Junior Varsity teams of Bristol High and Trenton Catholic High battled to a scoreless deadlock yesterday afternoon on the local school field.

Most of the playing was done at mid-field with Bristol having six first downs and Catholic five. Four of the Trenton first downs came in the second half by their fine passing attack.

"Peppers" DeRisi and Dick Bullington starred in the Bristol backfield with "Joe" Gilardi breaking up most of the plays in the line. Gontarszewski led the Trenton team in gaining yardage.

prepared at the depot in Philadelphia to handle a combined capacity of 2800 bodies.

Col. Sharp said that individual bodies will be contained in specially designed, hermetically sealed stainless steel caskets, each weighing about 400 pounds.

Each casket in turn will be protected by a stainless steel-lined shipping case.

Col. Sharp explained that a casket will be delivered to out-of-town destinations via rail or highway, whichever the next of kin desires.

In Philadelphia, 66 special vehicles will deliver the caskets to a cemetery, a funeral parlor, or a family home.

Honor guards accompanying the bodies, Col. Sharp said, would, if requested, attend any funeral held within 72 hours of the arrival of the body at its destination.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL INCREASE

NEW YORK — (INS) — Catholic schools in the New York Archdiocese recently opened their 147th year with a combined enrollment in the elementary and secondary schools of 138,500 pupils, according to Rev. Dr. John J. Voight, superintendent of Catholic schools for the Archdiocese. The 1947 registration in the 276 parochial elementary and 99 secondary schools represents an increase of 3,000 students over 1946, with 108,500 children registered in the elementary schools and an estimated 30,000 students enrolled in the high schools of the Archdiocese.

Southampton Couple Victims of Murder-Suicide

Heppe, of Upper Southampton, also is working on the case.

The Medlands had arisen some time earlier in the morning, and had had breakfast before the tragedy. They were both fully clothed. Mr. Medland was due to leave at 7.15 for his employment.

The son who is in the Navy, whose age is 23, is now stationed at Seattle, Washington.

Other survivors are a brother of Mrs. Medland and a sister of Mr. Medland, whose names and addresses were not available.

Examination of the wounds suffered by Mrs. Medland showed that the bullet entered her head on the left side of her skull back of the ear, and came out the right forehead.

The bullet which killed Mr. Medland entered his right temple, passed through his head, and emerged near the left top of his skull.

Mr. Medland was a veteran of World War I, having served in the U. S. Army.

They had lived at their present location since last January, having come here from Davisville, Bucks County.

"PICKLED" PEOPLE

CHICAGO — (INS) — Americans are fast becoming "pickled," but literally. Consumption of pickles increased during the war, and the National Pickle Packers association reported that Americans are eating more pickles than ever before. Because of the abnormal weather prevailing over the pickle acreage, the size of the present harvest cannot be estimated until after the first chilling frost.

HAY-FEVER SOLUTION

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — This is small comfort for tear-laden sniffing hay-fever sufferers in Pennsylvania. Dr. Edward P. Claus—and definitely not Santa Claus—offers this consolation to Pennsylvanians: "If you can manage to live at 8000 feet altitude until frost, you won't have a sniffle of hay fever." All of which is fine. But where can you live at 8000 feet in Pennsylvania?
